Information

Add-on components with TTG or EC type approval do not necessitate registration: front bars, running boards, fender flares, lift kits.

According to the TTG (ABE): Parts Type Approval (TTG) is the successor to the ABE. As of June 2024, no new ABEs will be accepted. The TTG (Parts Type Approval) has replaced it. Please do not confuse the TTG with the parts certificate; the TTG is equivalent to the ABE.

The 16" CP rims are equipped with a TTG for the tire combination 225/65 R16, rendering them exempt from registration. The tire combination 235/65 R16 requires individual approval in accordance with §21 StVZO from a recognized testing organization, such as TÜV, DEKRA, KÜS, or GTÜ.

For the 16" BT rims, there is a TTG for the tire combinations 215/70 R16 and 235/65 R16, rendering them registration-free.

All other items are exempt from registration and do not necessitate an appraisal or TTG.
